BTARS AMONG FRESHMEN

By NELSON M. ("PI") WAY. (Pamons Yale Poetball Player.) NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 28.—The PENNSY'S UTILITY Harvard football team next year will have six men of the eleven who started the game against Yale, besides a number of "sube," a lot of good material from the freshman team, and Tom Enwright and Billy Boles, who were inveligible this season. Harvard has a splendid system established and with this host of material available ought to be able to turn out a wonderful eleven.

Harte and Coolidge will be missed at end. They played a very consistent and heady brand of football throughout the season. Harte is one of the most versatile athletes who ever went to Hartward, for he is a fine catcher and a brilliant tennis and hockey player. No matter what Harte is playing he is in the game every minute and gives all he has to have cleaners.

makhough he did not play the game this backs in the event of serious injury on the grame this absence in the line should be feit. Harvard also an attack of tonsilitis.

Though he was on the offence he was a valuable player for any team. Sweetser at tackle player for any team. Sweetser at tackle attended football practice this afternoon. The gave some valuable advice to Head should be missed as much as any man in the line. He put up a fine game against Yale and was pitted against Gates, the shiftiest man in the Yale line. Minot and Wilcox were both very good but not quite up to the varsity

Harvard will have its first string back-id intact and this combination should Beid intact and this combination should prove the best in the country. Casey, the shifty runner and forward passer, can be counted on to establish another fine record next year. He made it pos-sible for the Crimson to beat Princeton and also did some great broken field running in the Yale game.

Robinson, the Crimson drop kicker, should be on the job again and cause a should be on the job again and cause a let of trouble for any eleven inside the 46 yard line. Robinson also runs a team well. Horween will no doubt give a good account of himself next fall. He is a beautiful drop kicker and punter and a great line plunger. If he could be taught to pick his openings he would be almost invincible, but the way he runs now he hits the line once in a while where there is no hole. He goes with such force that it bends him up and, if Thacher is a good man voted to signal drill. Shiverick plants, and while not spectacular drop kicking and punting. A light work-out will be held to-morrow. hen the other backs are running with

Will Enwright Land?

Flower, one of the "sub" backs, should give some one a good run for the team as he is a fine punter and a shifty run-ner. Bond is another back who will bear something for Harvard next year. Mur-ray is also back for quarter, and if he can get over the habit of fumbling should make a strong bid for that position in

When you reenforce that great aggregation with Enwright and Boles it is easy to see where Harvard will stand for backs next season. Enwright failed to land a regular berth last year be-cause he could not get into the Haughton system. Tom thought he knew more doing very well in his studies and is a preparation for the contest with Wash-sure candidate for next fall. freshman line material which is of the huskiest sort. The "cub" line this season averaged well over 200 pounds from tackle to tackle. In the backfield Harvard had a brother of Horween, who plays the same sort of slashing game does the varsity man, only he seems be a shiftler and better runner than
